

JAMES DEATLY.

[To accompany bill H. R. No. 130.]

MARCH 5, 1840.

MR. TALIAFERRO, from the Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, submitted the following

REPORT :

The Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, to whom the petition of James Deatley, asking an increase of pension, was referred, report :

That the petitioner has heretofore been allowed a pension, by the department, for six months' service as a private soldier in the war of the revolution; that he now claims to have served twelve months; and, in addition to his own declaration, on oath, he exhibits the affidavit of a respectable individual, who swears, on his own knowledge, that the petitioner did perform twelve months' military service in the war of the revolution. Both the petitioner and this witness are, in a satisfactory manner, shown to be credible. The committee, therefore, concur in recommending an addition to the pension of the petitioner for the six months' service as a private, and report a bill.

Blair & Rives, printers:

MARCH 5, 1840.

REPORT

The Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, to whom the petition of James Deady, asking an increase of pension, was referred, report:

That the petitioner has heretofore been allowed a pension, by the department, for six months' service as a private soldier in the war of the revolution; that he now claims to have served twelve months; and, in addition to his own declaration on oath, he exhibits the affidavit of a respectable individual, who swears, on his own knowledge, that the petitioner did perform twelve months' military service in the war of the revolution. Both the petitioner and his witness are, in a satisfactory manner, shown to be credible. The committee, therefore, concur in recommending, in addition to the pension of the petitioner for the six months' service as a private, and report a bill.

Blair & Rice, printers.